

Business Process Management Solutions

ACCELERATING EFFICIENCY >>

Start Strong, Finish Fast

To succeed with any critical new initiative or large-scale change, you need to closely examine all the underlying processes. It's easy to get stalled given the challenges involved with new technology implementations, complex regulatory demands, and the need to measure performance across business units.

So how can you build and sustain the best path forward? That's where Celerity's Business Process Management (BPM) team comes in.

Unlocking Your Potential

Celerity's BPM experts do the heavy lifting to inject new efficiencies into your operations. We focus on the four areas that have the greatest impact on accelerating business results: technology, efficiency, strategy and talent.

At every step, we strive for simplicity and apply creativity to boost your momentum and cut costs—while keeping an eye fixed on best end-state scenarios. Beyond our immediate task, we identify any gaps or challenges with the new change program that could dramatically affect your organization.

Above all, we remain flexible and relentless in pursuing solutions that align with your core objectives and your culture. We're passionate about solving strategic process problems—and it shows.

Is your organization continually looking for ways to:

- Lower costs with streamlined business processes?
- Respond swiftly to shifting business, market and regulatory demands?
- Improve customer interactions and loyalty?
- Align operations with strategy?
- Eliminate bottlenecks?

Let Celerity's BPM team move you forward.

“Between now and year-end 2014, overlooked but easily detectable business process defects will topple ten Global 2000 companies.”

— Gartner BPM Report, January 2011

Core Competencies

Giant Leaps Forward

Our team of process engineers, Lean and Six Sigma specialists and technologists improve workflows by drawing from a suite of proven tools and tactics:

Operational Assessment and Analysis

We examine current value chains, their alignment with your overall strategy and their impact across business units. Identifying gaps and cross-functional breakdown points leads us to feasible solutions.

Process Design and Re-Engineering

To break through bottlenecks, we execute end-to-end process visioning and design, which addresses process controls, integration points and standardization needs. We establish key performance measures to ensure success.

Lean/Six Sigma Training, Mentoring and Project Execution

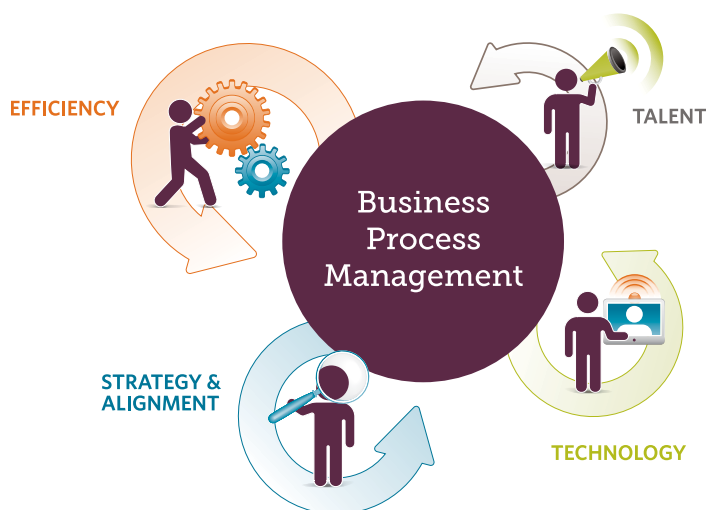

Celerity will empower your teams to take your business to the next level quickly—and keep it there—using Lean and Six Sigma methodologies or Kaizen workshops.

Business Process Management Suite (BPMS) Assessment and Implementation

The next generation of enterprise resource planning, BPMS enables organizations to change and adapt in real time. We evaluate and implement software that gives you the greatest control over your processes.

Celerity has a record of accelerating efficiency for leaders in:

- Financial Services
- Government
- Healthcare
- Media
- Consumer Goods

Celerity optimizes business process management results by aligning efficiency, strategy, technology and talent.
